

DesertBoard® to Showcase Sustainable Interior Solutions at INDEX 2025

DesertBoard® is excited to participate in INDEX 2025, the Middle East's premier interior design and furniture exhibition, taking place from May 27 to 29, 2025, daily from 10 AM to 6 PM at the Dubai World Trade Centre.

Advancing the circular economy in the region, DesertBoard® will present its versatile range of engineered solutions tailored for diverse industry needs. Among its offerings are the region's only certified fire-rated door cores, high-strength reusable shuttering boards, and moisture-resistant customizable finished boards—products that serve sectors spanning construction, landscaping, interior design, and events & exhibitions.

The PSB® wooden board offers a transformative alternative to conventional wood-based products, delivering exceptional durability, water resistance, and termite resistance, along with adaptability across diverse climates. With global demand for eco-conscious design on the rise, PSB® stands out as a regionally sourced, high-performance solution.

INDEX 2025 serves as a strategic industry nexus to demonstrate how PSB® is transforming sustainable interior solutions,” said Kamal Farah, Director at DesertBoard®. “By repurposing palm fronds that would otherwise contribute to landfill waste or harmful emissions, our proprietary PSB® offers a high-performance, carbon-negative alternative to MDF, HDF, plywood, and other conventional wood products—without compromising on durability or design flexibility

Engineered for versatility, PSB® supports a broad spectrum of applications—from internal and external walls, roofing, and flooring in construction to doors, cabinets, and partitions in joinery. The material also excels in temporary structures for events, as well as in landscape design, powering durable pergolas and other exterior structures.

At the event, DesertBoard® will demonstrate PSB®'s potential through live prototypes and sample boards, engaging architects, interior designers, contractors, and fit-out specialists—while emphasizing its commitment to local resources and innovation.

As INDEX 2025 welcomes 33,000+ visitors, featuring 500+ global exhibiting brands from 40+ countries and 100+ industry-leading speakers, DesertBoard® is proud to present its innovative, scalable, and certified PSB® solutions.
